

Innovation in Vegas: A Quarterly Update

May 2023
Edition

The Latest from Las Vegas

We're excited to announce that recent renovations to the Innovation Center are now completed! As of May, we have eight new desks within the Las Vegas office, which we plan to fill in the coming months. Two of these positions will be for new Client Services Representatives, while another workstation will be designated for a Help Desk Support Specialist 2 position through the Network Services team.

We've created a new series of marketing flyers which serve to promote the space and services available at the Innovation Center. A copy of our new flyer is available on the Innovation Center website at: wecanbeyourwildcard.com/reservations/.

If you're interested in learning more about the Innovation Center and the solutions we provide to network partners, we'll be hosting an Education Express webinar on Tuesday, July 25th. This session is scheduled for 3:00 PM to 3:30 PM ET (12:00 PM to 12:30 PM PT) and will be hosted by Kasey Olchowski and Nick Gowey. Best of all, this webinar is FREE to attend! Registration can be completed by accessing the following URL and selecting the July 25th session from the list of upcoming dates: cuanswers.com/resources/edu/courses/syllabi/?course=EX.2023. We look forward to seeing you there!

Meet Nick Gowey

Hello, I'm Nick Gowey and I'm the Western Region Sales Representative for CU*Answers.

Out west, I look for opportunities to build relationships with credit unions, join other team members working onsite with our new credit union partners, attend various industry events and help facilitate events at the Las Vegas Innovation Center. Credit unions can often be unaware of our cooperative design and spirit – what I enjoy most is introducing those credit unions to our network and showing them what they've been missing.

In my 6th year with CU*Answers, I received a weather promotion to Las Vegas. My chocolate lab Charlie and I packed up and headed west to help open the Las Vegas Innovation Center. We do our best to take advantage of the warm months outside, as well as find lesser-known food spots on and off the Las Vegas Strip. We also routinely take advantage of The Entertainment Capital of the World by attending local sports events, concerts and other cultural events that come to town.

If you ever find yourself in Las Vegas for a cuasterisk.com event, convention, or even personal travel, please reach out – I would be happy to meet you and give you a tour of our space! I can be contacted at: nick.gowey@cuanswers.com.
