How We Determine the Winner

CU*Answers will count the total number of documents eSigned by your credit union each month. We then calculate the percentage of eSigned documents per member* based on the membership size of your credit union for the month. We then average all of the months to arrive at your final average for all 12 contest months. The credit union with the highest average is the winner. In the event of a tie, we will conduct a random drawing between the tied credit unions.

* Number of members as determined by CU*Answers accounting for billing purposes.
